From: PFBC Stream and Lake Habitat Section

Re: Seasonal Fisheries Biologist Aide Opportunities

Dear Candidates:

The Pennsylvania Fish & Boat Commission's Division of Habitat Management have seasonal Fisheries Biologist Aide (FBA) opportunities that might be right for you. As an FBA, you will get an inside look at the conservation efforts being conducted by the PFBC during fish habitat projects on the streams and lakes of Pennsylvania. You will have a chance to go on the road with Habitat Management staff to complete fish habitat improvement projects all over the Commonwealth and get some great hands-on experience with implementing conservation projects. The position pays $14.61/hour. The FBA work period will begin this spring and run until the fall. The position requires an 8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. work schedule for the duration of the position that will be starting in spring and lasting until October/November. Overtime outside of normal working hours is expected and occasionally Saturday hours as well. There is considerable travel and some overnights required, but you will be reimbursed for your expenditures on food and hotel stays. You will need to report to our Bellefonte, Centre Regional Office for duty located at 595 East Rolling Ridge Drive.

Applicants must have a degree, or be in the course of study, in fisheries or a closely related field.

Our previous FBA's have used their experience to help enter graduate school and acquire positions in the fisheries biology field.

Our PFBC website (<http://www.fishandboat.com/Resource/Habitat/Pages/default.aspx>) offers presentations and information about habitat field work.

If you are interested, please e-mail a resume to Mark Sausser at msausser@pa.gov resumes are due on April 6th, 2021
